SPECIAL ACCOMMODATION REQUESTS

Dear Applicant:

The Louisiana Board of Veterinary Medicine is the regulatory agency in Louisiana for the practice of veterinary medicine. The Board is responsible for verifying the qualifications of examination candidates to take licensing examinations. Some applicants may require special accommodations when they take their licensing examination. The following pages provide a guideline regarding what type of special testing accommodations the Board considers, how exam candidates can go about requesting special accommodations, and what kind of documentation candidates need to provide for Board consideration.

Regards,
